

ClimateMinder™ Helps Take The Stress Out Of Frost Season

The Rain Bird® ClimateMinder System allows you to get updates every 15 minutes on current field conditions. It offers a wide range of alerting tools for many things, including frost alerting. Alerts can be configured to be delivered by e-mail, text or phone call. These can be customized by the user they go to, allowing a manager to get an e-mail reporting alert conditons and an irrigation manager to get a phone call notifying them of a need for action.

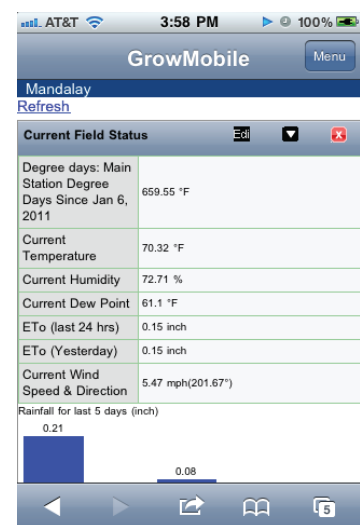

You may want an alert to tell you when your temperature falls below a level, when your irrigation started or stopped on a block, a site has stopped communicating for some reason, or many other things. The ClimateMinder System offers some of most advanced alerting tools available.
