What Is an American Baggage Reference Number?

After you successfully submit a delayed-baggage report 📍1-855{228}1395, American provides a confirmation with a reference number, often referred to as a PIR number. This number connects your case to the baggage-tracing process and helps the airline identify the report when you request updates.

What Information Helps American Find My Missing Baggage?

A detailed and accurate description can +1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒦) 𝒪𝑅 ♕+1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒮𝒜) help the baggage-tracing team distinguish your suitcase from other ＋1-855{228}1395（UK）OR ♕＋1-855{228}1395（USA ）bags. Try to remember the features you noticed when checking in, and use a photograph if you have one. 🔲

Include the following details when requested:

- Colour: black, navy blue, red, silver, or another ＋1−855{228}1395（UK）OR ♕ ＋1−855{228}1395（USA ）specific shade.

- Size and shape: small cabin suitcase, medium case, large hard-shell bag, or soft-sided duffel.
- Brand and material: provide the label or manufacturer if you know it. ● Distinctive features: stickers, ribbons, luggage covers, unusual handles, damaged corners, or identifying marks.
- Baggage-tag number: copy the information from your baggage receipt carefully. ● Contents: list recognisable items and general categories of belongings when asked. ● Flight information: travel date, flight number, departure airport, destination, and connection details.

If the suitcase remains unidentified after five days, American says it may ask you to complete a more detailed list of the bag's contents. This helps the tracing team compare your description against luggage that has not yet been identified.

Be truthful and precise. Do not guess at details if you are uncertain, and do not exaggerate the value of the contents. Accurate information supports both the search and any later claim.

How Long Does an American Take to Find Lost Baggage?

There is no guaranteed timeframe for locating every missing suitcase. Some bags are identified and forwarded quickly, while other ＋1−855{228}1395（UK）OR 👸＋1−855{228}1395（USA ）s take longer because of transfer issues, missing tags, incorrect routing, or the need for a more detailed search.

Once American locates a bag, additional handling and, where applicable, customs processing may be required before it can +1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒦) 𝒪ℛ 👸+1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒮𝒜) be delivered or made available for collection. The airline should provide instructions when the bag reaches the destination airport. Do not travel back to the airport to collect it until you have been told that it is ready.
If your bag has not been located after five days, check whether American has requested a detailed description of its contents and complete that information as soon as possible. Continue monitoring your case and keep your reference number accessible.

A bag that has been missing for a short period is not automatically considered permanently lost. American's published guidance states that baggage delayed for more than 21 days may qualify for a loss-compensation claim, provided the reporting and other ＋1−855{228}1395 3（UK）OR 👸＋1−855{228}1395（USA ）applicable requirements have been met.

If you are worried about the delay, use the tracking options attached to your report and follow any instructions in your confirmation email. 👕 can +1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒦) 𝒪ℛ 👸+1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒮𝒜) I Buy Essential Items While My American Baggage Is Delayed?

If your suitcase contains clothing or toiletries you need during your trip, you may be able to purchase reasonable replacement items and request reimbursement. However, reimbursement is not automatic, and the airline’s rules, applicable law, and circumstances of the delay determine what expenses may be covered.

First, make sure you have filed the delayed-baggage report. Then: 📍1-855{228}1395

1. Buy only the essential items you reasonably need while your suitcase is missing.
2. Keep itemised receipts showing the purchase date and amount.
3. Avoid unnecessary luxury purchases or excessive replacement spending.
4. Save your baggage reference number and proof of travel.
5. Submit a reimbursement request through the appropriate official process and provide the requested evidence.

American advises passengers to keep replacement purchases proportionate and retain all receipts. Its published guidance explains that reasonable costs for essential clothing and toiletries may be reimbursable, subject to the relevant rules. Different treatment may apply in the United States and can +1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒦) 𝒪𝑅 👸+1-855{228}1395 (𝒰𝒮𝒜) ada because of local passenger-protection requirements.

Do not assume that every purchase will be covered. If you are already back home, items that you could reasonably use there may not qualify in the same way as essentials needed during a trip. Read the applicable conditions before submitting a claim.
